Veterans Day events ahead

Post renaming planned, World War II vets honored and books released 11/11

BY VICKIE MOSS

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - Annual Veterans Day ceremonies will take a bittersweet tone this year, with the renaming of the local VFW post after an Army sergeant killed in Afghanistan in 2007 and recognition of the county's few remaining World War II veterans.

Veterans Day ceremonies will begin at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 11, at the Anderson County Jr./Sr. High School in Garnett. All World War II veterans are asked to sit together, front row center, and stand as a group for introductions during the ceremony.

The Veterans Day program will feature a renaming ceremony for the Garnett VFW Post, which is now named the "Sergeant Jeffery Mersman Veterans of Foreign Wars Memorial Post No. 6397." Immediate Past State of Kansas Veterans of Foreign Wars Commander Bruce Fishbach will retire the current post flag and dedicate the new post flag.

Mersman was killed Nov. 9, 2007, when his six-member troop detachment was ambushed in Aranus, Afghanistan. The only survivor of the troop later was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for his actions during the ambush. Mersman, an Anderson County native and 2002 graduate of Prairie View High School, enlisted in the Army during his senior year. He served four tours of duty in Iraq and one in Afghanistan.

VFW leaders said the post was named in Mersman's honor because he was the only member of Post No. 6397 to have died in combat while a member of the post, and because members wanted to commemorate the latest generation of sacrifices of the veterans from Iraq and Afghanistan. His death was the first military combat death from Anderson County in three decades.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 11-3-2015 / Vickie Moss

Firefighters and emergency personnel work the scene of a rollover accident at about 5 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 29, at U.S. 169 and 2000 Road. Cora Brown, 36, Greeley, southbound on 169 when her vehicle drifted right; she overcorrected, left the roadway and struck a ditch. The vehicle rolled multiple times before landing on its roof about 208 feet from initial impact. Brown was injured and taken to Anderson County Hospital by ambulance, and transported to another hospital by air ambulance.

County seeks help to value ethanol plant

Independent appraiser asked to help county determine fair value

BY VICKIE MOSS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - An independent appraiser is expected to help Anderson County and East Kansas Agri-Energy ethanol plant officials evaluate a tax value that is fair to both the ethanol company and taxpayers.

With a 10-year tax abatement on the ethanol plant expiring this year, Anderson County Appraiser Steve Markham's office is faced with the daunting task of assigning a property value to the ethanol plant and its new renewable diesel facility which is presently under construction. But because there are only 12 ethanol plants in Kansas, the state doesn't have a standardized method for assessing their value. Each of the plants vary in size and volume or even type of materials used to produce fuel, making it even more difficult to determine how to set their value for tax purposes.

"We want to make sure we have correct values that are fair to their (EKAE's) business concerns as well as fair to county taxpayers," Markham said.

The job of the county appraiser is to determine the "fair market value" of a prop-

City takes another look at crosswalk plans

Grant opportunity too good to pass up as discussion continues

BY VICKIE MOSS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - Despite plans to wait and see if drivers behave at a crosswalk on Park Road, city leaders will take a chance and apply for a grant that could install new traffic signals in the area.

Garnett commissioners have spent much of the past three months discussing safety concerns at the Prairie Spirit Rail Trail crosswalk on Park Road. The trail is the primary southern route for children who walk home from Garnett Elementary School in the northernmost part of the city. Recently, the city received complaints that motorists rarely stop for children or others in the crosswalk, and speed through the area.

Garnett Chief Kevin Pekarek said there have been no accidents and few close calls, but agreed that police will more closely monitor the area to encourage people to pay attention and slow down.

Lake road dangers could put events in jeopardy

Lake Garnett revival participants concerned about road surface

BY VICKIE MOSS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - While basking in the glow of another successful Lake Garnett Grand Prix Revival last month, city leaders acknowledged the condition of the lake road could threaten future events.

Organizers of the racing revival event, which was Oct. 9-11, told city leaders they were pleased with this year's event but expressed concerns about the road surface. In many places, particularly near the entrance to the Garnett golf course, the asphalt surface is

ANDERSON COUNTY BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OCT. 19

Chairman Jerry Howarter called the meeting of the Anderson County Commission to order at 9:00 AM on October 19, 2015 at the County Commission Room. Attendance: Jerry Howarter, Present: Eugene Highberger, Present: Leslie McGhee, Present. The pledge of allegiance was recited. Minutes of the previous meeting were approved as presented.

Road and Bridge

Lester Welsh, Road Supervisor and Dan Harden, BG Consultants met with the commission. Lester reported he has received a second notice from CenturyLink for damage to their lines in the county right of ways. He has gone out and looked at some of their equipment locations and has not found one yet that is visibly marked. He has informed CenturyLink he will not pay their claims. Dan presented a list of manufacturers who can erect metal buildings and contractors for the construction. Discussion was held on sending out bid sheets.

Appraiser

Steve Markham, Appraiser met with the commission. He reported the application for a fee appraiser to value the ethanol plant has been sent to the state.

Historical Society

Richard Miller, Anderson County Historical Society met with the commission. He has looked at the furniture that the appraisers office will be replacing. The historical society would be interested in the smaller table. The commission offered the road department for assistance in moving the table.

Rural Fire

Mick Brinkmeyer, Rural Fire Director met with the commission. He has given the commission copies of a revised city/county agreement. He questioned if the commission had time to review it. Mick informed the commission they are looking at building a new station for rural Garnett in the near future.

Sheriff

Sheriff Valentine met with the commission. He would like to purchase a new Tahoe out of the Hwy Patrol Partners program. He has a couple of vehicles that were purchased from state surplus that need to be replaced. Commission request he bring some figures to look at.

Phone System

Steve Prasko, Advantage Computers met with the commission. Steve has looked at options for a system for the Sheriff/Jail/Dispatch and also one for the courthouse. The commission feel the courthouse should wait until a final decision has been made on the improvements. Sheriff Valentine was also present and stated his system has to be upgraded before the New Gen is installed around the middle of December. Steve will prepare a quote for the sheriff's office for a new phone system.

County Counselor

James Campbell, County Counselor and Lester Welsh, Road Supervisor met with the commission. Review of the bill from B&B Construction Co was held.

Meeting adjourned at 12:08 PM due to no further business.

Anderson County Attorney

Joseph T. Daulton, Jr., 20, Garnett, was ordered to serve a 12 month jail sentence in the Anderson County jail after his probation was revoked today in Anderson County District Court. Daulton was convicted of Criminal Restraint, Domestic Battery, and Minor in Possession of Alcohol in March, 2015. On Oct 27 Daulton entered a plea and was convicted of a new felony, Criminal Threat, which served as the basis for his revocations. Daulton will be sentenced on the new felony conviction on November 23, 2015, and will remain in the Anderson County jail to serve out his 12 month sentence on the misdemeanor convictions.

Michael S. Jones, 30, Colony, was ordered to serve 6 months in the Anderson County Jail after his probation was revoked in Anderson County District Court Oct. 27. Jones was convicted of DUI-1st and Domestic Battery in December, 2013. Jones was convicted of new felony offenses in Woodson County, KS, while on probation, which served as the basis for his revocations. Jones is currently serving a prison sentence in the Kansas Department of Corrections and will be returned there to finish serving out his sentences.

Branden M. Dulin, 33, Garnett, was sentenced to served 72 months in the Kansas Department of Corrections at his sentencing Oct. 26 in Anderson County District Court. Dulin was sentenced to 34 months on a new conviction for Failure to Comply with the Kansas Offender Registration Act, and his probation was revoked and he was ordered to prison on two prior cases, one for Possession of Methamphetamine (18 months) and another charge of Failure to Comply with the Kansas Offender Registration Act (20 months). The sentences were all ordered to run consecutively for a 72 month controlling sentence. Dulin remains in the Anderson County Jail until he can be transported to the Kansas Department of Corrections to begin serving his sentences.

Legalize hemp in Kansas

REVIEW COMMENTARY

DANE HICKS, Publisher

It helped us win our war for independence. Its name is immortalized in an early Civil War battle fought nearby. It saved the life of a future American president. It's versatile and eco-friendly. Industrial hemp. Section 7606 of the 2013 Farm Bill authorized states legalizing the plant to begin research and pilot programs through state agriculture departments and institutions of higher learning. Rep. Willie Dove of Bonner Springs will re-introduce legislation early next year legalizing industrial hemp so Kansas can join the 24 other states adding the plant to their agricultural economies.

First, a myth to de-bunk: hemp is not marijuana. A quick review of your class in botany:

Each plant is a variant of the genus Cannabis; the only plant genus that contains the unique classes of molecular compounds called cannabinoids. The two major cannabinoids are THC and CDB. Marijuana has high levels of the psychoactive THC, and low levels of the non-psychoactive CDB. Industrial hemp is just the opposite. In fact, if the two plants cross-pollinate, the CDB in industrial hemp will overwhelm the THC in its cousin.

Section 7606 asserts industrial hemp is distinct, and limits its THC content to 0.3%.

You couldn't get high on hemp if you smoked an acre of it.

Additionally, to allay any law enforcement concerns, growers in other states provide their plots' GPS coordinates to their local lawmen so that their legal crop is not disturbed.

Here are a few of the uses of industrial hemp:

- Food - The nuts, seeds and oil are rich in fatty acids (Omega 3, 6, 9) and low in carbs.
- Building Materials - Concrete alternative, insulation, wood finishes and deck stains.
- Auto Parts - Lightweight replacements for plastic and metal-based car components.
- Clothing for the entire family.
- Biomass Fuels - Fuel pellets, liquid fuel, gas.
- Paper products of all kinds.
- Body Care - Cosmetics, soaps, shampoos, lotions and creams.
- Medicines - Anecdotal reports of relief of pain, sleep disorders, indigestion, among others.

According to the Hemp Industries Association, sales of hemp-infused products rose 21% in 2014 to $620 million.

Industrial hemp has had an important role in American history:

- Although the Declaration of Independence was on parchment, the first and second drafts were written on hemp. Exports of the plant were sold to France and weapons were bought with the proceeds. British efforts to confiscate weapons resulted in "The Shot Heard Round The World" at Lexington and Concord.
- The Battle of the Hemp Bales, an early victory by the South, was fought at another Lexington, in Missouri, in September, 1861.

• The webbing on the parachute used by George H. W. Bush after his plane was shot down in WWII was made of hemp, as were the ropes and riggings on the ship that plucked him out of the Pacific. Even the future president's shoes were stitched with hemp fibers.

The plant is truly "green". It grows well without fungicides, pesticides, herbicides, and insecticides, and with 1/3 of the water needed for cotton. It grows to maturity in a fraction of the time as timber.

Hemp was outlawed in 1937, restored as America geared up for WWII, but banned again in 1957; victimized by others' confusion of it with marijuana.

But it is making a comeback, and Kansas needs to join with its 10 other American siblings, including neighbors Missouri and Nebraska, in realizing the potential of this amazing plant. Another dozen or so states have measures in the legislative pipeline. All are ahead of us.

Imagine pairing the possibilities of industrial hemp with the genius of the Kansas farmer.

Hopefully, our local legislators will support Dove's bill when the session begins, and bring another ag revenue option to our community and the rest of the state.

I think its pathetic that a sergeant on the city police department doesn't obey the law. This is the third year in a row that he's failed to renew his license tag. Why does he constantly do this? What other laws has he decided he doesn't have to obey? Why don't any of his fellow officers issue him a ticket? They will definitely issue a ticket to anyone else who doesn't have a current tag. Grow up, be a man and start acting like a law enforcement official. Obey our laws.

Yes, I am God. I command you to keep your properties kept up and not be a community eyesore.

I just wanted to call and thank the county for mowing the road ditches here on 1600 and Barton Road. It will surely help with being able to see the deer, plus it just makes everything absolutely beautiful.

Hey, about this whole argument in the Phone Forum about people keeping their properties cleaned up and their right to be pigs, etc., - there are laws on the books in both the city and the county that have to do with proper zoning and land use. The city has a nuisance ordinance and the county probably has something similar. If your neighbors insist on devaluing your property because they love living in their own filth, the right thing to do is to contact your city police or the sheriff's office and swear out a complaint against them. Haul them into court and have them explain it to the judge. Thank you.

Who are you to dictate how someone else should live or spend their money, how they should maintain their property or what their priorities should be? Everyone has the right to decide that for themselves. Who are you to determine whether or not someone has pride? If you feel your neighborhood looks like a slum you may be happier living somewhere else, but you are certainly in no position to decide how those around you should live.

Hillary: It's the sexism, stupid

NATIONAL COMMENTARY

RICH LOWRY, King Features Syndicate

It was inevitable that Bernie Sanders would be accused of sexism sooner or later.

His day came at the signature Jefferson-Jackson dinner in Iowa. Hillary Clinton hit the Vermont senator for saying in the first Democratic debate that "all the shouting in the world" wouldn't keep guns out of the wrong hands. According to Clinton, Sanders had directed a notoriously sexist insult at her - although not one of the 15 million people watching at the time had noticed it.

"I haven't been shouting," Clinton intoned, "but sometimes when a woman speaks out, some people think it's shouting." What Clinton's plaint lacked in plausibility, it made up for in bad faith.

Shouting has not typically been considered a loaded term. Sanders didn't say "screeching." He didn't say "nagging." In fact, he had been saying that shouting is ineffectual in the gun debate long before he was entangled in an argument about gun control with Hillary Clinton.

Nonetheless, Sanders felt compelled on the CNN show "State of the Union" to tout his record on women's issues and say, "I think what the secretary is doing there is taking words and misapplying them." But there he goes again - suggesting that women aren't capable of correctly applying words.

Sanders should get used to it. If he remains a threat to Clinton in the early states, he'll be deemed a cross between Archie Bunker and Andrew Dice Clay. Already, the left-wing publication Salon ran a headline urging on the sisterhood: "Let's storm the Sanders' he-man women-haters club."

If Hillary is willing to use this tack against Sanders, a down-the-line supporter of the feminist policy agenda, just wait until she gets into a race with Donald Trump, Ted Cruz or any other Republican. No microaggression will be too "micro" to try to use to win a news cycle.

Hillary has already broadcast that she's going to wield her gender as an all-purpose argument for her candidacy. At the Democratic debate, she said she's an outsider - because she's a woman. She said she wouldn't simply be the third term of Barack Obama - because she's a woman. Hillary clearly doesn't want anyone to be mistaken about her gender.

Hillary will need to do all she can to motivate women voters to make up for what may well be a historic poor showing among men. In the latest Wall Street Journal/NBC poll, her favorable rating among white men was an abysmal 26 percent.

Republican pollster Kellyanne Conway says there are three positive attributes that voters tend to attribute to women candidates: They are warm and understanding; they are new and fresh; they are honest. Hillary, a partisan warrior who's been on the national stage for decades, usually trailed by an ethical cloud, is an imperfect vessel for all of those qualities. Which is why she'll use her gender as a means of attack as much as a selling point.

In Iowa, she defended playing the "gender card," saying if that's what it's called when you stand up for women's rights, then "deal me in." Actually, she'll be doing the dealing, and it will be from the bottom of the deck.

Commissioners considered several alternatives, but expressed dislike for nearly all of them. They were against lowering the speed limit or changing the area to a school zone. They considered installing new traffic signals or hiring a crossing guard, but were concerned about the costs and liability. After discussing the matter at length, they decided the situation had improved since it was publicized in the newspaper and wanted to wait and see if more awareness, combined with greater enforcement of the traffic laws, was enough.

But when Anderson County Emergency Management Director JD Mersman learned about the situation, he told City Manager Joyce Martin about mini-grants from the Kansas Department of Health and Environment to improve pedestrian safety. Mersman has been successful obtaining multiple grants for the county, and recently said he wanted to help the city be more aware of such opportunities.

Martin told commissioners she plans to apply for a grant to install a push-button traffic signal at the crosswalk. She talked with USD 365 officials who agreed to write letters in support of such a grant, as well as an official with the Kansas Department of Wildlife and Parks, which maintains the Prairie Spirit Rail Trail. KDWP estimates about 30,000 people use the Park Road crosswalk each year for walking or biking purposes, which could make the need for a traffic signal more appealing for the grant.

Although there is no guarantee the city will receive such a grant, commissioners said they support Martin's efforts to improve the area.

In a related note, commissioners also asked Martin to look into trees near the area that obstruct the vision of motorists and those who use the crosswalk. Martin said the city can ask the property owners to trim the trees, and city staff can do so if the property owners object.

erty as it exits on Jan. 1 of each year. The appraiser's office itself does not assign or collect taxes, but taxes are based on the value set by the appraiser. In the past when assigning value to the ethanol plant, based on meetings with industry officials across the Midwest, Markham previously looked at such things as sales volume and cost per gallon of ethanol to try to determine a value, but said those figures may not accurately represent the true value of the plant. For example, the price of ethanol can vary greatly.

With the ending of the plant's tax exemption status, it's even more important to assess a fair and equitable value, Markham said.

Assessment procedures vary for other counties that have ethanol plants. Some have left the matter to the Kansas Board of Tax Appeals, letting those officials sort out the matter. At least two have gone with an independent appraiser, and Markham said they told him they highly prefer that method.

After the ceremony at the high school, the VFW Ladies Auxiliary will serve lunch for $5. Mersman's mother and father will be given a special award during the lunch.

Later, the auxiliary will serve their annual "Chili and Soup Dinner" from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. at the post.

In addition to the formal activities, The Review's "Portraits of Honor" pictorial veterans book will be released Wednesday. The book features pictures of more than 750 Anderson County veterans since the Civil

"There does not seem to be a standard way of doing them," he said.

In addition to talking to appraisers who have experience with ethanol plants, Markham sought guidance from the state's Property Valuation Division, which supervises ad-valorem policies and procedures, conducts the valuation of state appraised properties and provides general property tax information.

Last month, Anderson County Commissioners approved hiring an independent appraiser to research the plant and facilitate meetings between EKAE and county officials. The application was sent to the state in mid-October. Markham estimates the process will move more quickly now that some of the early administrative procedures have been passed.

Although property values are assessed as of Jan. 1 of each year, the process typically isn't completed and released until June. Property owners who disagree with the assessed value can follow appeal procedures.

War, as submitted by the veterans, their family members, the local historical society and American Legion, and others. Pre-ordered books will be available for pickup at the office at 112 W. 6th in Garnett from 8 a.m.-12 noon and from 1 p.m.-5 p.m. Books may also be shipped to locations in the U.S. for an additional charge of $. If a man dies will he live again?

Job is one of the oldest books in the Bible. In Job 14:14 Job asks a very important question. "If a man dies will he live again?" Each of us has wondered when we come to the end of our life what would happen. A person who has received Jesus Christ as their personal Savior is secure. This is the fundamental message of the New Testament and this is what is required to gain salvation. You cannot do anything to lose your salvation because you didn't do anything to earn it. Some might say I'll accept Christ but I am going to go on living and doing what I please. In John 3 Jesus tells Nicodemus, "No one can see the Kingdom of God unless he is born again." If you are born again you put off the old things and put on the new things. Your life changes. If nothing changes one is left to wonder whether Christ has truly been received or this is a way to justify how we are living or what we are doing. In John 14 Jesus introduces something entirely new. This is first time there has been any mention of Jesus taking a group of people out of this world. In verse 14 we read, "Believe in God believe also in me. In my Father's house are many rooms; if it were not so, I would have told you. I am going there to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come back and take you to be with me that you also may be where I am. You know the way to the place where I am going." This seems to answer Job's question very well. Jesus is saying to the disciples and to us, do not worry. When you believed in me you put your faith in me. This involves not only the consent of the mind, but an act of the heart and will of the believer. From this came the rebirth and the changed life. From this we know heaven is a literal place and Jesus is going there to prepare a place for us. Jesus says we know the way to the place where he is going. Thomas asks Jesus a question, "Lord we don't know where you are going, so how can we know the way?" Jesus answers with a verse that is the cornerstone of Christianity. Jesus said, "I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me." You can't get to the Father by service or a ceremony or works or a church. The way to the Father is a person Jesus Christ.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 11-3-2015 / Ron Serene

Madison Martin and Reagan Jirak go up for a block in Friday's matchup against Santa Fe Trail while Katelyn Alley and MaKayla Kueser ready for the follow up.

AC drops Burlington, heads to Columbus for 1st round of playoffs

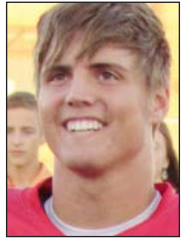

COLUMBUS – The AC Bulldogs take their 5-4 record to Columbus Friday night to play the defending state champs in the opening round of post-season regional play, in the hunt for the 4A Division II State Title.

At 9-0, Columbus has the best record in 4A DII and will be bent on eliminating AC from the post-season lineup in the opening round. Colby, Wamego and Hugoton all share a 4-5 mark with two district wins that got them into the post-season grid – the only records among the 16 teams that mark fewer wins than Garnett's. Columbus crushed Parsons 48-7 in the final game of the regular season last week.

Considering the Bulldogs went 1-8 last year, head coach Greg Welch said the anticipation on the part of his Bulldogs is understandable.

"We're excited about being in the playoffs," Welch said.

The boost in morale comes from a late-season winning streak which most recently saw the Bulldogs dispose of Burlington 34-14 to secure the post-season berth. AC's senior running back Chase Ratliff racked up 302 yards against Burlington on 38 carries and amassed three Bulldog touchdowns on the way to the win.

"We played well, had a great night in running the ball and had fun in getting the win," Welch said. "Our young kids played inspired defense."

The Bulldogs didn't pass much against Burlington – Ratliff caught two passes for 10 yards and Devin Katzer had a single reception for 59 yards, but the majority of AC's 453 yards came on the ground. Senior quarterback Jacob Rundle passed for a total of 69 yards and Kyle Lamb rushed for 90. AC ran 70 offensive plays to Burlington's 48. Rundle and Katzer both added touchdowns for AC.

Junior Adam Kroft picked off AC's only interception as Burlington went to the air to try to make up some real estate. Senior Grady Schuster had three sacks to cost Burlington 21 yards. Tim Comfort led AC in tackles with 9, Ratliff and Schuster had 7 each.

Kickoff for the Friday game between AC and Columbus is 7 p.m.

'Dawgs fall in two at 4A State VB

SALINA – Stage fright may have gotten the best of the AC volleyball team Friday, when the squad made its first appearance at the 4A tournament in 15 years only to fall in the first matches and get bumped out of advancing to the semi finals.

Topeka-Hayden emerged with the crown on Saturday after a face-off against Santa Fe Trail, who entered the tournament 23-13 and upset AC in the second match of the day Thursday. AC also lost to Clearwater but beat Goodland in its final match.

AC at 29-8 was the top seed in Pool I, but started slow in its opener with a motivated 20-16 Clearwater team. AC lost 25-18, 25-16.

"I thought we played nervous and unaggressive," said head coach Glenn Suderman. "I was impressed with Clearwater all day." Katelyn Alley led AC serving with 10, Reagan Jirak had 6 kills – her least in any set for the day.

AC led in the Santa Fe Trail sets but bobbed the win in the end, losing 23-25, 25-23, 25-22.

"It was the match that got away," Suderman said. "We needed this one and we had it. We played bad for about two minutes." Kinlee Jones led serving with 12 aces and setting with 39, Jirak had 17 kills, MaKayla Kueser led the defense with 13 digs, Cassidy Lutz had 4 blocks. Alley led setting overall with 42.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 11-3-2015 / Ron Serene

Two losses at the state tournament means you're heading home, but AC put the "want to" into the Goodland match to salvage some dignity and bring home a win. The Bulldogs came out on top 25-23, 25-22.

"I was very happy for our seniors to finish with a big win, Suderman said. "We just wanted it more."

Jones led serving against Goodland with 13 aces, Jirak and Kueser had 9 kills apiece and Lutz had 8. Lutz and Jasmine White had 4 blocks each. AC ended the season 30-10.

"Thanks to the fans who traveled with us and supported us," Suderman said.

Wilson in top 25 at 4A state

WAMEGO – AC sophomore Averi Wilson finished 23rd out of 102 runners Saturday at the Kansas 4A Cross Country meet in Wamego.

Wilson, who finished 26th last year before the state high school athletics association changed the women's course from 4k to 5k – the same distance high school boys run – finished in 20:45.17. Callie Logue, a junior from Girard, won the day in 4A with a time of 18:08.87. Senior Riley Osen of Winfield won the men's division with a time of 15:44.90. Baldwin won both the men's and women's team

Like 2014, Wilson was the only AC runner to qualify for the state meet. She ran a 16:20.20 on the 4k course at the state meet last year. Head coach Mike Sibley said there's still much to be heard from Wilson and the rest of the Bulldog women's cross country team.

"Averi had a great season and put all of her heart and effort into the state championship," Sibley said. Our girls overcame a lot of adversity this year due to illness and injury," he said.

Sibley said even though some may look at the season and say the Bulldogs didn't see the improvements they've seen in past years, a 9th straight league title gives the team's departing seniors something to cherish from our season.

"Moreover," Sibley said, "getting 5 of the 7 seniors girls (Gwen Sibley, Maddie Goode, Remi Hedges, Paige Scheckel, Bel Sibley) named to either 1st or 2nd team all-league was a great accomplishment."

"Next Year Averi, Tiffany Mills, Paige Rupp, Emma Porter and Lizzy Comfort will need to pick up the mantle that has been left for them by these girls," he said.

Sibley also noted the accomplishments of the AC boys squad, in moving from 11th at regionals last year to 4th this year.

"Graduating only one senior should give them great hope that next year will be their year to return to state," Sibley said.

Lancers meet Caldwell in bi-district tonight

ALTOONA – Crest head coach Chuck Mahon warns his team and its fans for tonight's bi-district game in 8-man Division II: beware Caldwell's 4-5 record.

"They are a well-coached team who is very explosive on offense," Mahon says. "Their quarterback is the real deal – he along with their quick offensive line will pose troubles for us."

The Lancers crushed Altoona last week 48-0 in only 15 offensive plays to set up the 1A playoff appearance. Gage Adams had four carries for 90 yards and three TDs; Evan Godderz threw three TD passes- two to Hunter Frazell and one to Garret Sipe. Crest caused five turnovers and three interceptions, and banked all 48 points in the first half. But Mahon says that's where the cake walk ends for the 5-3 Lancers.

"For us to be successful, we're going to have to be fundamentally sound on both sides of the ball (against Caldwell) and take care of the ball on offense."

A number of the state's 1A teams come to the Big Dance sporting impressive records. Chase High School is 9-0 and opens bi-district play against 8-2 Scandia-Pike Valley at Chase tonight. Attica-Argonia is 9-0 and opens against 7-2 Hartford at Argonia. Victoria is 8-0 and opens against 7-2 Winona-Triplains. Sharon Springs is 9-0 and opens against Otis-Bison at 8-1.

Rockers honored as 'Champion of Hunter Education'

Local hunter education instructor Ben Rockers of Greeley was recognized as one of the six instructors nationally honored as Gallery of Guns 2015 Champions of Hunter Education for outstanding work in the Hunter Education field. These instructors break the confines of average teaching, giving selflessly to the future of hunting and setting standards in their state for safe and ethical hunting teachings, and recruitment and retention of thousands of students.

The award was presented Sunday, Oct. 24, by Kent Barrett, Hunter Education Coordinator.

An article in the Fall 2015 issue of "Hunter & Shooting Sports Education Journal" read: "Benedick Rockers understands commitment to the sport that he so loves: Serving as a Hunter Ed area coordinator and certified Kansas Hunter Education instructor for 38 years; Ben has actively recruited and trained many new instructors from his area, and was selected as the Kansas Region 5 Instructor of the Year in 2004 and again in 2014.

"It is not only his dedication to hunting and hunter education that has been demonstrated many times over the years, but also to that of his wife Katie. In 2011, they were jointly inducted into the Kansas Hunter Education Instruction Association Hall of Fame.

"Always innovative in approaching hunter education throughout the years, Ben also incorporated multiple live-fire opportunities for his students using muzzleloaders, shot, rifle, archery and pellet guns as well as developed a comprehensive trail walk that provides students with a detailed look at hunting during the class.

"Ben is also happy to take his passion and activate it in the field a step deeper. Approximately 12 years ago, Ben determined that there was too much information to pack into the basic class, so he started an annual advanced HE class in conjunction with a youth/novice pheasant hunt at the family farm in Greeley. With many volunteers from the area, local game wardens, and assistance, from the Kansas Department of Wildlife, Parks and Tourism, this has grown into a tremendously successful event. Students are provided breakfast and training in advanced hunting skills and disciplines. The hunt itself is complete with trained hunting dogs on a local controlled hunting area, and incorporates all aspects of the harvest culminating with the students returning from the hunt to clean their birds, gear, prep the birds for cooking, and actually finishes off with a meal containing their own harvest. For many, it is the first wild game they have experienced. Attendance at this event has grown to over 135 participants a year and has included soldiers from the Wounded Warrior Project, Boy Scouts, Big Brothers/Big Sisters, churches and local schools.

"Ben and Katie have been married for 33 years and raised a family of hunter education instructors. At this time, three of their four children are certified instructors and work with their parents to provide classes."

Pieces & Patches Quilt Guild considers fate of old scrapbooks

The Pieces & Patches Quilt Guild was called to order by Vice President, Sandra Moffatt, on October 22, 2015 at 9:30am at the Anderson County Extension meeting room. Roll call was answered by 29 members and 2 guests, Martha Miller and Melissa Dodd. The minutes of the August meeting were approved as printed in the newsletter. Terrie Gifford gave the treasurer's report.

The committee list for this year was again recirculated and members encouraged to sign up for committees and indicate if they would be the chairman. It was reported that Eleanor Burns is recovering well from the heart surgery she had in September.

• Program — Sandra Moffatt listed the following upcoming programs: November

19 Holiday Sew & Share and she distributed flyers describing the event; December Christmas luncheon; January Charity quilt sew in; February Judy Vore will do a trunk show and a class on Stack & Whack.

• Block of the Month — Several members showed their blocks from the August pattern. Violet Holt showed the September block, George Bailey Star Block, and distributed the pattern. Tammie Schaffer showed the October block, Spins & Squares, and distributed the pattern.

• Library — Carrie Rulon & Rose Dennison removed old books and magazines from the library. It was decided that any book that is signed by the author should be kept in the library. Members were encouraged to take whatever book or magazine they would like. It was suggested that the librarians give a report on a book from the library at each meeting so members know what is available in the library and compile a list of the library books.

• Old Business — It was decided to reveal our Secret Sister during roll call in December. Sandra requested that members think about what to do with the Guilds Old Scrap books and minutes. Some options include donating them to the Historical Museum and/or putting the information on a computer disc. Terrie reported that Heartland Quilt Guild dues are due and they will need the names of the new president & program chairman.

• New Business — Quilt members will use some of the fabric stored at the extension office to make charity quilts and put kits together for our boutique at the January meeting. Members were advised that they can use some of the donated fabric to make charity quilts. Carrie Rulon collected names of individuals doing machine quilting for others and will include that information in the next newsletter. Secret sister- gifts were received by Terrie Gifford, Rose Dennison, Violet Holt, Joen Truhe, Lou Ann Shmidl and Janie Paxton.

• Show & Tell—The following items were shown: Judy Stuke a quilt; Sharon Rich a wall hanging, small quilt and corn sack quilt; Joleata Kent a wool rag hooked rug; Judy McArdle quilt with matching pillow shams & cases, 2 baby quilts for nursing mothers and a baby quilt; Marvella

Reporting deadline approaches for foreign agriculture land owners

GARNETT —Anderson County USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) Executive Director Doug Peine, reminds foreign persons with an interest in agricultural lands in the United States that they are required to report their holdings and any transactions to the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture.

"Any foreign person who acquires, transfers or holds any interest, other than a security interest, in agricultural land in the United States is required by law to report the transaction no later than 90 days after the date of the transaction," said Peine.

Foreign investors must file Agricultural Foreign Investment Disclosure Act (AFIDA) reports with the FSA county office that maintains reports for the county where the land is located.

"Failure to file a report, filing a late report or filing an inaccurate report can result in a penalty with fines up to 25 percent of the fair market value of the agricultural land," said Peine.

For AFIDA purposes, agricultural land is defined as any land used for farming, ranching or timber production, if the tracts total 10 acres or more.

Disclosure reports are also required when there are changes in land use. For example, reports are required when land use changes from nonagricultural to agricultural or from agricultural to nonagricultural. Foreign investors must also file a report when there is a change in the status of ownership such as owner changes from foreign to non-foreign, from non-foreign to foreign or from foreign to foreign.

Data gained from these disclosures is used to prepare an annual report to the President and Congress concerning the effect of such holdings upon family farms and rural communities in the United States.

For more information regarding AFIDA and FSA programs, contact the Anderson County FSA office at 785-448-3128 or visit the USDA Web site at <http://www.usda.gov>.

Portraits of Honor

The Review's "Portraits of Honor" veterans pictorial book will feature photographs with basic information about Anderson County veterans during the past 150 years. In the weeks surrounding the book's release in November 2015, The Review will feature more information about selected veterans beyond the basic details provided in the book.

Hank Doering

Henry H. "Hank" Doering

Thanks to his dad's permission (and signature), 17-year-old Henry H. "Hank" Doering enlisted with the U.S. Navy as soon as he graduated from Garnett High School in 1945. He was in Boot Camp in San Diego when the war ended. He served on the U.S.S. St. Louis, which sailed to Pacific islands picking up the U.S. troops. He served as an electrician and movie projector operator. He also was a boxer in the Navy, and later boxed in the Golden Glove contests.

Copies of "Portraits of Honor" will be available from The Review for $39.95 ($43.35 with tax) and may be reserved now by contacting our office, 112 W. Sixth Ave., Garnett KS 66032, (785) 448-3121, email admin@garnett-ks.com

Hurrah for the Pumpkin Pie

EXTENSION NEWS

NANCY SCHUSTER, Frontier Extension District

Pumpkins and squash of many colors, shapes and sizes, they are available at local Farmer's Markets. Home cooks and chefs rely on canned pumpkin puree because it is a convenience, has consistent flavor, and texture. Canned pumpkin is our seasonal pumpkin fix, for everything from pies and muffins to savory pots of pumpkin soup and chili.

But, you might be surprised to know that this pantry staple might be hiding another ingredient inside — squash! That's right; some canned "pumpkin" puree is actually made from one or more types of winter squash, like Butternut, Hubbard, Boston Marrow, and Golden Delicious. These squash varieties can be less stringy and richer in sweetness and color than pumpkin.

The label on canned pumpkin reads 100% pumpkin. However; the USDA is actually pretty lenient with its distinction between pumpkin and squash. Here's their take on the contents of canned puree: "The canned product prepared from clean, sound, properly matured, golden fleshed, firm shelled, sweet varieties of either pumpkins and squashes by washing, stemming, cutting, steaming and reducing to a pulp."

The term "pumpkin" can apply to two of the three varieties of winter squash - C pepo and C maxima. Within these two varieties you'll find Connecticut field pumpkins, Dickinson pumpkins, Kentucky field pumpkins, as well as Boston marrow squash, and Golden Delicious squash.

As you visit local Farmer's Markets this fall for pumpkins, don't be afraid to ask questions about the varieties of squash local growers raise and how to prepare them. Some of the squash, like Turban, may even look like decoration. The Turban has a large orange base with small top of cream, green and orange colors. Firm textured, the inner golden flesh of a Turban squash has a slightly hazelnut flavor after being baked or steamed.

When preparing Turban squash in an oven, cut the squash lengthwise from the stem to the bottom. Place the squash skin side up in a dish with 1/2 inch of water. Cover the dish and bake for 1 to 1 1/4 hours at 375 degrees. In a microwave, cook for approximately 20 minutes in a dish with a loose cover of plastic wrap. This squash is available year round, but best during August to October.

The Kabocha squash is a member of the pumpkin family. Inside the hard deep green or reddish-orange, spotted outer skin there is a semi-firm, dense golden flesh that has a rich, sweet flavor. With a flavor that tastes similar to pumpkin meat or a sweet potato, it is a good substitute for recipes requiring pumpkin or sweet potatoes as ingredients. When cooked, its texture resembles that of a tender potato. It can be baked, braised, pureed, stuffed, or steamed to be served as a side dish or as a base for soups, cakes, and pies.

Ambercup squash looks like a small pumpkin. Delicata, a long oblong-shaped squash with a cream colored, green striped thick outer skin, and Carnival, shaped like a slightly flattened pumpkin with hard, thick, colorful rind that is mottled with green, yellow, orange and cream are golden orange flesh squash that can be cooked similar to the Turban squash - baked or steamed.

Be brave at the Farmer's Market this fall and try one of these squashes - Hubbard, Sugarpump, Sweet Dumpling, Acorn, Butternut, Gold Nuggets; you will find them delicious and easy to prepare. Substitute squash for pumpkin this Thanksgiving!

- Light Pumpkin Pie - makes 8 servings
- 1 cup ginger snap cookies
 - 1 15-ounce can pumpkin or squash (1 3/4 cups)
 - 1/2 cup egg whites (about 4)
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 2 teaspoons pumpkin pie spice

1 can (12 ounces) evaporated fat-free milk

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees F. Spray 9-inch pie dish with nonstick cooking spray.

Grind ginger snaps in a food processor and pat cookie crumbs into the dish evenly.

Mix remaining ingredients into a large mixing bowl. Pour into crust and bake until knife inserted in center comes out clean, about 45 minutes. Cool on wire rack for 2 hours. Serve immediately or cover and refrigerate.

Facts about my metal detector

I'm sorry folks, but this week's column will be a little shorter and different in nature.

As most of you already know, I love to operate a metal detector. I'm always getting all these questions about my metal detector. What kind is it? How deep will it find things? Where did you get it? Naturally, How much does one like yours cost? Etc., etc.

Well here are all the facts about my Detector. By the way, it's almost an antique like me.

I purchased my Detector in 2000 from Clevenger Detector Sales in K.C., Missouri.

- It is a White's 6000 Pro XL, $699.95.
- 9.5 " White's ProXL Deep Scan Coil (Came with detector)
- "Bull's Eye" 5.3" Coil (I use it the most), $119.95
- White's Royal GT " Gold Titanium" Headphones, $49.95
- Deluxe Classic Carry All Bag, $59.95
- Suggested Retail Price: $929.80. I actually purchased the entire package for $687.95. Plus a Free Battery Recharge Unit (valued at $50.00) and a Free Operating Manual & Video.

I will share one of my better metal detector surveys with you. In 2001 I metal detected for 3 days over a rather large area. My finds: 1,074 coins with a face value of $63.97, plus several gold and sterling silver rings, charms, medals etc.

My Detector is almost 15 years old and is operating just as good as the day I purchased it.

cracked significantly. While most motorists traveling on the road don't notice the rough surface, it's particularly difficult for the more sensitive, lower riding sports cars that traverse the road at higher speeds during the exhibition laps at the revival.

The road condition is bad enough that a Ferrari club that attended the 2014 revival skipped this year's event. Revival organizers told city leaders they fear more participants will drop out because of the road condition. They hope to continue to grow the revival, which attracts hundreds of cars and even more spectators to Garnett in the fall, but worry that the road condition could stop the event in its tracks.

The road surface also has concerned organizers of the Lake Garnett Enduro Kart Club's twice-yearly go-kart races, Garnett City Manager Joyce Martin said. Ron Anderegg, a longtime organizer of the go-kart races, said some participants have stopped competing in the local event because of safety concerns caused by the rough road surface.

In June, city commissioners debated redirecting some of the money it had set aside for residential street repair toward the lake road. Supporters of paving the lake road, including Garnett Mayor Greg Gwin, argued recreational events like the sports car revival and go-kart races bring in more sales tax money from non-residents to help pay the costs of paving streets. In the end, city commissioners decided to fix residential streets, forgoing pleas from recreational and car racing enthusiasts who wanted work done on the lake road.

The city has a limited annual budget for street repair, spending between $100,000 to nearly $200,000 each of the past several years to maintain city streets. Since 2011, the city has paid more than $788,000 for street work. City staff try to select streets that are most in need of repairs. And each year, they hear from constituents who are unhappy about the streets chosen and debate which streets are most deserving.

But the issue is expected to remain a priority, and City Manager Joyce Martin said she has talked to engineers specifically about improving the road over the lake's dam. Go-kart and revival participants were concerned about the tilting pillars and steep drop off on the north side of the dam, and engineers have suggested ways to improve the area. The tilting of the pillars likely is caused by too many asphalt layers pushing down the soil, and much of the problem could be alleviated by scraping off the extra asphalt, Martin told commissioners at their regular meeting Tuesday, Oct. 27.

Gwin said he felt there are worse areas on the lake road, such as near the golf course entrance. Martin agreed there are several problem areas. She added the road's design - with sharp curves, steep drop offs, near the lake water and with several large trees alongside the road - the lake's sports car racing days are long behind it. But with some improvements to the surface, the lake road still can attract recreational events like the revival and go-kart races.

The original Lake Garnett Racing Association still exists, although it no longer is active in organizing races, and still has some money that could be used to help with road repairs, Martin said. She and organizers of the new Grand Prix Revival event hope to organize meetings with that group to see if it's possible to use the money to help fix the lake road.

You name it, we print it.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 11-3-2015 / Photo Submitted

The Garnett Senior Center had a wonderful birthday celebration on Oct. 14 for the seniors who had October birthdays and all others who attended. The youth from the Beacon of Truth Church in Richmond gave a delightful program of singing numerous joyful and praiseful songs for all to enjoy. They were accompanied on the piano by Katherine Martin and directed by Hannah Yoder. They closed by singing a robust and lively rendition of "Jesus Loves the Little Children." The next birthday dinner will be held on Nov. 18 and the program will be presented by Pam McSwane and friends. Please plan to attend at 11:30 a.m. to enjoy the entertainment, but don't forget to call the day before to reserve your meal. The phone number is (785) 448-6996.

County Gets New Bus

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 11-3-2015 / Vickie Moss

The Anderson County Aging Council received a grant from the Kansas Department of Transportation to purchase a new bus. The county's portion was 20 percent of the cost, or about $12,000 for the $60,000 bus from Kansas Truck. Pictured with the bus are board members Clarence Hermann, Rosemary Turner, Patty Jo Ramsey holding granddaughter Sadie Ramsey, and Marlyn Burkhardt, with driver Paul Smith and Ron Anderegg.
